The workshop topic and program should be suitable for biomedical engineers, neuroscientists, and clinicians to learn about exchange ideas and breakthrough advances in novel engineering tools, methods for elucidating brain function and neurotechnologies for functional restoration, ethical and commercialization problems, and challenges. The workshop proposal should describe the theme, why it is timely and of interest at this time, who would be the expected audience, the list of featured topics and speakers, and how you propose to engage the speakers and audience (eg. discussions and panels).

The program should be limited to half or full day long and holding the workshop would be subject to review by the program committee, the availability of rooms, and a sufficient number of registered participants. All workshops will require prior registration with special registration rates for students and members. Please submit your proposal by February 3, 2023 to Prof Nitish Thakor (thakorjhu@gmail.com) and copies to Janice Sandler (j.sandler@ieee.org), Claire Folkerts (cfolkerts@conferencecatalysts.com), and Pedro Irazoqui (perizoqui@protonmail.com).
